Now Is The Time To Nominate Directors

The biennial election of officers and directors for the Iowa Numismatic Association takes place this summer, with the Second Vice President traditionally in charge.

President Jim Hamling has issued the call for nominations which should be sent to Vice President Bob Douglas, 58 Levonwood S.W., Cedar Rapids, Iowa 52404. If you believe your area of the state has not been properly represented on the board, now is the time to make some nominations. Act soon.

Ballots may be in the mail as early as the middle of July. They will need to be returned to the secretary for tabulation and announcement of winners at the annual convention which will be held in Fort Dodge this year.

During past elections members have become excited when they found that ballots were numbered. This is done so that when ballots are returned an unnumbered ballot or one improperly numbered, can be spotted and recognized as an illegal ballot — someone's effort to stuff the ballot box.

There is simply no record as to who receives any certain number. Ballots are jumbled and sent out so that numbers cannot be traced. But it is a simple device with which to detect the addition of fake ballots.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Election '84 Is Here!

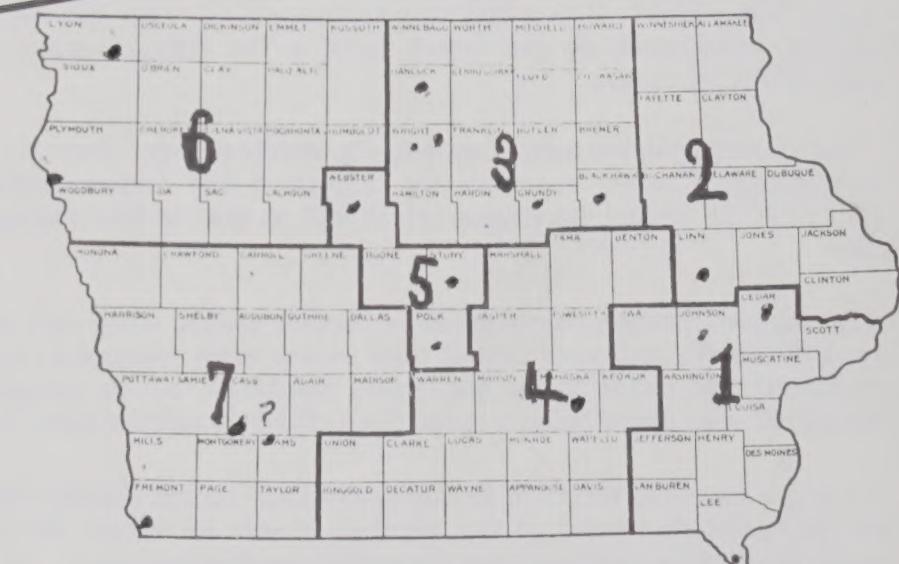

Let's follow the example of the National Scene and have an INA election this year!

During the INA annual board meeting when we met with the club representatives, many clubs around the state said they haven't seen a District Representative for several years.

Do you want a change? Then send your nomination for officers and directors to Mr. Bob Douglas, 58 Levonwood S.W., Cedar Rapids, Iowa 52404.

Let's have several nominations for each Director — and get better district representation for each district.

Jim Hamling
INA President

Webster City Item Found

A piece of Webster City, Iowa, history was found in Boston, Massachusetts, by Tom Denly. The item is an advertising missive bearing the name of G. W. Crosley, dealer in all kinds of boots and shoes in Webster City, Iowa.

The face of the advertising scrip looked similar to a piece of nineteenth century currency and was headed "Silver and Copper Tipped Boots and Shoes."

The reverse has six lines of a sort of pidgin hieroglyphic writing style popular at the time.

The item as reported on and pictured in the November 1983 issue of the "Bank Note Reporter."

Roy Lawrence Remembered Home Town, Coins & Cats In Will

Stamp and coin collectors and the city of Anamosa are among the beneficiaries of the Roy Lawrence estate. He died in 1983 and left a million dollar estate to a variety of beneficiaries.

Roy Lawrence is probably remembered best for his publication of "The Coin Collector" a newspaper which had an extensive following in the years immediately prior to the founding of the Numismatic News and of Coin World which crowded out the smaller Roy Lawrence publication.

He wrote a detailed will just a month before his death in which he:

Established a $1,000 fund to provide flowers for his grave over the next 20 years;

Gave $500 each to two women who cared for him in his later years;

Gave an antique bowl to a young Anamosa girl;

Established a $5,500 fund for a five-year coin collecting essay contest at Anamosa High School. Students will write on the "Fun of Collecting Stamps and Coins."

Left $100,000 to be divided between four of his late wife's relatives in California. He apparently had no living relatives;

$500,000 go to the city of Anamosa toward the construction of a community center. But the center must be called the Ray Roy Marion Lawrence Community Center in memory of himself, his twin brother, and his late wife, Marion;

His home and contents were left to the Jones County Historical Society and is to be called "The Lawrence Historical Home";

He had two cats for which he left $1,000 each for their care;

Any remaining funds from the will were left for the upkeep of the community center.

340 Lot Auction at Des Moines

The annual show of the Des Moines Coin Club was held Saturday and Sunday, May 12 and 13 at Adventureland Inn, with Ed Victoria show chairman.

A highlight of the show was an auction of 340 lots of rare coins and other items arranged and conducted by Chris Seuntjens of the Coin Works at Ankeny.

Many rare and semi-rare type coins were featured in the auction, running the gamut from copper to silver and gold.

NUMBERED BALLOTS. At the annual board meeting the matter of numbered ballots was brought up. To answer questions which may arise in the mind of voters, we will explain. The ballots are numbered (by hand as that is the most economical) as a means of forestalling imitation ballots, as additional or duplicate numbers would be evidence of cheating at the polls.

The numbered ballots are mixed up and mailed out in no particular order. There is no way in which anyone could tell who has any particular number. Your secret ballot is secret.

Both encased and unencased postage stamps have served as money. Such issues were well known during the U.S. Civil War.

Did you know that the winged cap on the Roman style Liberty Head of the Winged Liberty dime symbolizes freedom of thought?

Larry Adams Elected President Of Paper Money Society

Larry Adams of Boone was elected President of the Society of Paper Money Collectors (SPMC) at the Society's annual meeting in San Diego, California, held in conjunction with the American Numismatic Association's 92nd Convention, August 16-20, 1983.

Adams has been on the Board of Governors of the SPMC since 1975, and has served as Vice-President since 1979. He has been Curator of the Mamie Doud Eisenhower Birthplace in Boone since 1980.

The featured speaker at the SPMC banquet held August 17 in San Diego was Robert J. Leuver, Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington, D.C.

The Society of Paper Money Collectors, Inc., was organized in 1961 and has over 1,900 members in the United States, Canada, and a number of other foreign countries. The society publishes a bimonthly magazine, PAPER MONEY, which is sent to members, and is publishing a series of books on the obsolete bank notes of the various states. The book on Iowa obsolete notes was released in 1982.

Five men, including Dean Oakes of Iowa City, Iowa, were elected members of the Board of Governors of the SPMC.

IOWA CITY COLLECTORS ACTIVE (?)

Rumors are actively afloat that Iowa City Coin Collectors have organized the Old Capitol Coin Club, and have been meeting since last fall on the third Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m. in Meeting Room C in the Iowa City Public Library. A list of officers and confirmation of the meeting time would be welcome at "The Iowa Collector."

LOOKING FOR A SPEAKER?

If you are looking for a speaker for your coin club, perhaps the best place to look is right in your own club. You have knowledgeable guys and gals among your own peers. Next, check neighboring clubs, or perhaps better yet, call on your INA district director and put him to work addressing your group.

The following have been suggested as the first members of an INA Speakers Bureau. Call on them:

Don Mark, Adel and Des Moines

John Hickman, West Des Moines

Burl Armstrong, Donnellson

Paul D. Lyons, Burlington

Robert E. Douglas, Hiawatha

COIN-A-RAMA AT AMES PROVES USUAL SUCCESS

The Annual Coin-A-Rama, one of Iowa's leading coin shows, was held in Ames, March 3 and 4, 1984 with Arthur and Doris Nelson among the long-time workers on this project.

Held at the Starlite Inn, dealers are attracted from throughout Iowa and neighboring states.

Officers of the Ames Coin Club include: Arthur Nelson, president; James Jackson, vice president; Dorothy Robertson, secretary; and Frank Schank, treasurer.

The possibility of changing the date of the show this year was looked into earlier because of a conflict with the Forest City Show, but plans to change were dropped when it was learned the motel was already booked solid for the first six months of the year.

We See By The Bulletins

Several of the Iowa clubs are kind enough to send copies of their monthly bulletins to the Iowa Numismatist for our review. We had naively thought all coin clubs had a club bulletin — probably because Clarion has always had one. But, such is apparently not the case.

The bulletins we have received are from Burlington, Clarion, Decorah, Fort Dodge, Okoboji and the Tri-Cities club at Moline-Davenport-Rock Island.

It seems logical to begin with the Burlington coin club bulletin, not only because they are first alphabetically, but as each bulletin reminds us, "Iowa's Oldest Continuously Active Coin Club."

BURLINGTON COIN CLUB

New officers for 1984 are: Clarence Mitchell, president; Jeff Sourwine, vice president; Karen Lancaster, secretary-treasurer; Paul Lyons, historian.

The most recent big event at this Club was the spring auction held April 28 at The Holiday. The auction consisted of nearly four hundred lots — 382 to be exact — with Dean Kolkman as auctioneer.

The auction included four Flying Eagle cents, most of the key Indians and Lincolns, as well as many other coins in the denominations up through one dollar. There were also a number of proof sets and some currency. After scanning many of their auction lists during recent months, it occurs to us that if one person bought all the Flying Eagles offered, he would be well on the way to having a roll of that popular coin.

Membership dues at Burlington are $3.00 per year for an adult; $1.00 for an additional adult in the same family; and $2.00 for juniors.

DECORAH AREA COIN CLUB

We have received two bulletins from this active club. Attendance was running at 44 to 47 members. Members who paid their dues before January 1 were entitled to free pizza at the first meeting in 1984. Club medals were also being sold for $3.00 to members who had sold raffle tickets and $5.00 to the public. It was possible to get medals with the individual member's number on it.

The Decorah club has also built up a library of about 40 books which are available on loan to members.

TRI CITIES COIN CLUB

Although this club meets in Moline, we presume the other two cities involved are Davenport and Rock Island. Just to turn the "tri" into "quad" the May regular meeting was held May 17, and then on Monday, May 21, the Rock Island Arsenal Coin Club invited all members of the local clubs to a joint meeting in the cafeteria building at the arsenal where there was an auction of fine numismatic material and a social evening.

The "Tri" club has had ANA slide presentations at many of their meetings this year. Shown at the May meeting were slides on "$3 and $5 Gold Counterfeit Detection."

Dues are $3 for adults and $1 for juniors. The Bulletin pointed out that this doesn't much more than cover postage.

The annual dinner Nov. 17 in Rock Island, was attended by 50 members and guests, where they enjoyed an excellent dinner, bingo games and an auction of better coins. The new club president was elected: Ken Crawford. Financial report of the annual fall show revealed a profit of $449.72 which will carry the club through the coming year in fine shape, according to the Bulletin.

FORT DODGE COIN CLUB

The two or three page bulletin of this club always begins with a report on the current price of gold and silver and how the price compares with the previous month.

The May bulletin went on with this paragraph: "The confrontation between the Iowa Department of Revenue and the Fort Dodge Coin Club has ended. President Peters and Past-president Dunn have met with the state people and the results, in the proverbial nutshell, is that the Club will not have to collect sales tax (on coins sold at the monthly auction) as the Club owns no coins, stamps, etc. However, the Club will have to collect sales tax when we have the concession stand at our annual club show at the 4-H building."

Fort Dodge was not the only club concerned about the question of collecting sales tax on items sold at auction. Webster City collected sales tax for several months prior to the new ruling, and officers from the Clarion Club had met with an officer of the Iowa Department of Revenue and were momentarily expecting to be ordered to begin collecting and to pay tax on items sold for the past year or two.

All are happy the Department ruled as it did. It was pointed out that an individual can sell coins, etc., once or twice a year without collecting and paying tax. But, the third time tax must be collected and paid. Payment of the tax is the responsibility of the individual.

Back to the Fort Dodge Bulletin. This Club has had a contest for the last two years to find out who can best predict the ups and downs of coin prices. Last spring a list of 26 items, including gold and silver were listed and members asked to indicate which ones would go up the most in price in one year. At the conclusion of the year, only 6 of the 26 lots showed a gain; ten stayed the same, and ten went down. Winners of the "Guessing" contest were: First: Terry Gsthohl; Second: JoAnn Peters; Third: Dave Guddall.

Officers of the Fort Dodge Club are: President, JoAnn Peters; Vice President, Lowell Guddall; Secretary, Steve Seger; Treasurer, Ted Guddall. Other members of the Board are: Gerri Dunn and Mary Buckley.

This is the Club which will host the INA state show this fall, and naturally at each meeting there is a report of the latest progress on plans for the big show there September 28 to 30. Lowell Guddall is bulletin editor and auctioneer.

CLARION COIN COLLECTORS

This Club's bulletins appeared following the first meeting in the fall of 1958 and appeared from time to time for the next few months while the Club was meeting irregularly before settling down to regular monthly gatherings. The same person — Don Watts — has written very nearly all the bulletins during that period of more than a quarter of a century.

During recent months a typical auction has included 100 lots, nearly half being U.S. coins and the balance divided among currency, trade tokens, postage stamps, postcards, railroad items, military items, and a wide variety of other small, portable collectibles.

Since the first of the year various fields of collecting have been featured, as displays of Washington and Lincoln items in February, Irish dollars in March, wooden nickles in April and type coin sets in May.

Clarion officers this year are: Dick Simpson, president; Wayne Ebert, vice president; Bill Houser, secretary and Maurice Harson, treasurer. Other members of the board are: Myron Price, Don Watts, Curt Pegg, Jim Judson and Harry Peters.

Forest City Coin Club Holds 25th Anniversary Show

The Forest City Coin Club held its 25th Anniversary Show March 3 and 4, at the civic auditorium.

Saturday found forty tables of coins, stamps, antiques, guns and collectibles. Business was good on Saturday. The group enjoyed a delicious dinner at the country club after the show closed on Saturday.

The storm which came up on Sunday made many of the dealers head for home early, but those who stayed found business was good.

Exhibits were judged and the Best of Show, first place in currency, and the Gene Morris Award for the Best Educational Exhibit was won by David Nairn of Thompson.

Other winners: JoAnn Peters, Kanawha, first place in U.S. Coins; Lloyd Anderson of Forest City, first place in Silver; David Nairn, Thompson, first place in Collectors Items with his exhibit of belt buckles; and Eugene Morris of Forest City, first place in medals and tokens.

CENTENNIAL COLLECTORS OF WEST CENTRAL IOWA MEET

The semi-annual meeting of the West Central Iowa Centennial Collectors Club will be in Ames, Sunday, June 24, according to R.A. Wilt, secretary. The gathering will be at the River Valley Shelter House No. 1. Members and others should bring a picnic lunch and service for two. The wives of the collectors will prepare a picnic lunch which all will share together. If you are single or the wife does not choose to come along, then come alone, Wilt advises.

Each person should bring extra medals which they may have to trade or to sell. The meeting starts at 10 a.m. and continues on into the day. R.A. Wilt can be addressed at 1915 Calvin Street, Carroll, Iowa 51401.

Harry Peters (right) bourse chairman of the Forest City show, presented Fred Carson, Albert Lea, Minnesota, with a trophy commemorating Fred's 25 years as a dealer and for attending each of the Forest City shows during the years. He is also a member of the club.
